World's Week

BY HAROLD L. WEIR

The war has definitely passed into a new phase of higher tempo. All the German and British troops which for months have been waiting in a state of static preparedness will be shortly moved, according to all indications, into active operations.

No matter to whom the immediate plums of victory may fall in the Balkan and African theatres of war, it is inconceivable that the action should bog down into stalemate as it did when the Italians were the sole combatants, in those areas, on the enemy side.

The very fact that the Germans have considered the African and Balkan fronts worthy of their personal attention shows that they will continue the battle in that country.

If the Germans lose in Africa and the near East, they cannot afford to lose prestige by accepting and swallowing their defeat. They will have to fight on.

If the Germans win in Africa and the near East, their conquests will only be the bases for an extended program of aggression.

I have contended for some weeks that the real targets for Nazi acquisition in these theatres of war were not Greece and North Africa at all nor even Egypt, but the oilfields of Iraq and the rich wheat lands of the Ukraine.

Present developments seem to bear out this contention. Whatever happens, they will eventually make a drive through Turkey and Syria into Iraq and through Rumania into the Ukraine, for these places are where war loot is richest.

The eastern front will likely engage millions of fighting men before the war is over.

Japan, too, has stepped into the limelight again as the consequences of the new Russo Japanese pact become more clear.

The Japanese foreign minister, as you will remember, was in Berlin when the Yugoslavian defiance quite definitely lowered German prestige. Taking advantage of this diplomatic defeat, Yosuke Matsuoka demanded a higher price for Japanese co-operation with the Axis.

The pact with Russia was that higher price. Stalin signed, not because he was afraid of Japanese aggression in the Pacific, but because he was afraid of German aggression in the Ukraine. He feared to offend Hitler by refusing to sign.

This treaty, however, assures Japan that she may proceed at her leisure with her program of acquisition in the East Indies, the Malay States and against Singapore without fearing Russian interference.

It is not likely that this threat of interference was very great at any time. But the Japanese are a jittery people. They like to play safe.

It is reasonable to believe, therefore, that war is nearer the Pacific than it has been since September, 1939.

RECOGNIZED BY PRINCESS ALICE

The following item is of interest locally where Mrs. Goldie is well known, having been a former resident of Crossfield where her husband was the agent for the Alberta Pacific Elevator.

"Perhaps Her Royal Highness, Princess Alice, is one of those people who can with truth say that she never forgets a face. When Mrs. M. R. Goldie, general secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was presented to her Monday at the L. O. D. E. tea Her Excellency said, 'Have we not met before, perhaps some time ago?'"

Mrs. Goldie, amazed, said yes, but it is a long time ago.

"Where would it be?" Her Excellency asked.

"In Johannesburg, about 1924 or 1925, ma'am," said Mrs. Goldie.

And when Mrs. Goldie mentioned the tennis match where she had been presented, Princess Alice remembered at once and said with enthusiasm, "A thrilling match."

Mrs. Goldie's home was in Johannesburg then, where her husband was in the civil service. She herself did not play that day, but was to substitute if any of the tennis players fell out for any reason.

And nobody said 'It's a small world!'"

Word was received that Mrs. Christine McFadyen of Vancouver B. C., mother of D. H. and Archie McFadyen, had fallen last week and fractured her hip. Mrs. McFadyen is an old-timer of Crossfield having lived here from 1904 to 1926 and her many friends extend best wishes for her recovery.

The Anglican Church was beautifully decorated with flowers at Easter and the Sunday after. The decorating was done by Mrs. Currie assisted by the Juniors; the flowers and greenery being given by Mrs. R. L. Boyle, Mrs. Mossop, Mrs. Wooleage, Miss Lily Smith of Esquimaux, B. C., and the rectory. To all of these much appreciation is due.

News Letter

From Overseas

The following letter of interest was received this week from Pte. Frank Moen.

The Chronicle is sending copies to the boys overseas.

If you have a relative serving overseas, leave his name and address with the Chronicle and he will receive the paper each week.

England, March 13, 1941.

Dear Mr. Marshall,
I just received the Chronicle today and I certainly wish to thank you. Our thoughts always are about Canada and naturally we are glad to read the news about what is going on.

We are enjoying nice spring weather here at present, but we are to expect lots of rain yet before spring really comes.

However, I guess we can take it as we already have had lots of rain.

This last week has been quite exciting for me. I just received from Bud Shantz, Kenny Giehlert and Stan Swietzer. They just arrived here last week. Kenny and Stan were over and stayed with me last night and we had a great time telling our experiences since we joined up together.

Everything is quiet and peaceful here and I doubt if Crossfield is any quieter. There is an air raid warning on now and we can hear lots of planes passing over, but bombs haven't been dropped here very often so no one is very much disturbed. There was a plane brought down near here last night and we could hear the crash but did not know at the time what it was.

The English people are certainly standing up under the bombing raids very well. The air raids do not break their spirit and they are very confident that we will win out in the end.

Before closing, I wish to say thanks again for the Chronicle as I certainly enjoy reading it.

Sincerely,
Frank Moen

MRS. L. OVERBY LAID TO REST

Funeral services for Mrs. Louis Overby, 64, who died on Tuesday, April 15, were held in the United Church on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Rev. H. V. Ellison officiating. Miss Joan Shaw of Calgary, a friend of the family, sang the beautiful solo "My Task".

D. McArthur, Ed. Meyers, G. Johnson, W. J. Wood, W. McCaskill and Ira Heywood were the pallbearers and interment was in Crossfield cemetery.

She was born in Norway and had been a resident of this district for 36 years, coming here from North Dakota in 1905. She is survived by her husband, three sons and one daughter and one grandchild.

CLEAN SEED

Much of the grain sown each spring contains large numbers of annual weeds such as a Spurr, Lamb's Quarters, Lady's Thumb as well as more harmful sorts among which are included Wild Radish, Mustards, Sow Thistle, Couch Grass and Canada Thistle. Practically all of the common weed seeds except Wild Radish, can easily be removed from wheat, oats or barley by the use of a fanning mill equipped with a reasonable variety of screens. Such equipment is not costly and two or more farmers can own a machine jointly to good advantage.

All of the seed required can be cleaned and made ready for seeding in a surprisingly short time. Seed grain may also be treated for smut, provided an approved fungicide is used. This treatment, when done carefully, is most effective in controlling seed-borne diseases, and full instructions will be found on the container in which the compound is sold.

When seed grain is treated for smut, states R. B. MacLaren, Dominion Experimental Station, Charlottetown care must be taken to see that it does not become reinfested. The sacks used to hold the grain after treating and the seed drill should be carefully disinfested. Care should be taken to see that treated seed is labeled so as to avoid poisoning stock. If there is any doubt about how to treat seed grain for smut write to the nearest Dominion Experimental Station or Plant Pathology Laboratory.

"NEVER MIND THE BLASTED WINDOWS"

In spite of bombs and the black-out, shop-window display in Britain has not only continued but actually increased in ingenuity and service. One of the country's leading electrical firms promptly discovered a substitute for plywood, the peace-time foundation of window display, in linen stretched taut on wooden frames.

Display settings in linen, it was found, could be folded into small compass. Where, in former days, a van could carry only three or four sets, now it can transport ten times as many.

Instead of leaving wartime window display to the individual dealers, the firm decided to send around experts to do the job. No fewer than 54,000 personal visits have been made to all parts of the country and 85,000 separate pieces of display material have been placed in position.

Bombed shops, with their slogans "More Open Than Ever" or "Never Mind the Blasted Windows—Come In", carry impressive displays showing that the British retail and electrical industry, in spite of all threats, is very much alive and kicking.

Full of enthusiasm, she had gone in for politics, and was out of the house most of the day. One night she returned at nine o'clock and sank into an armchair.

"Everything's grand," she said. "We're going to sweep the province."

Her husband looked round wearily and said, "Why not start with the dining room?"

Weeds and Flowers

Last year we announced a service which would assist farmers and young people in becoming familiar with the many kinds of weeds which infest farm lands and gardens. Specimens may be handed to any grain buyer serving any one of the elevator companies associated with the work of the Agricultural Department. The grain buyer will be glad to send the plants on to you for identification.

It is very important to secure good specimens. The entire plant, including flowers and roots, should be sent, unless it happens to be an elm tree or a willow.

Young people or others interested in botany are welcome to submit any plants they care to. We have built up a good collection of native plants, and expect to add many more this summer. There is no end of pleasure to be found in making and preserving plant collections, and young people living in the country should try it. We are preparing a circular dealing with collecting, pressing, mounting and labelling specimens, copies of which may be secured from the Agricultural Department, The North-West Line Elevators Association, Winnipeg.

We are playing host to several dangerous perennial weeds which may be cheaply and readily eradicated if caught in time. Once they are well established it may cost more than the land is worth to get rid of them. If every young man over twelve could name every weed on the home farm, we would be well on the way to winning the weed war.

"THIS IS NO PART-TIME JOB"

Quoted by President Roosevelt in radio address, March 16, '41.

The President in his radio address warned the American people, that, a half-hearted effort on their part would lead to failure and urged an all-out effort.

To us Canadians "AN ALL-OUT EFFORT" on our part is even more urgent. We must WORK full time and SAVE TO LEND full time for victory now and security after.

Red Cross Society

Stunned victims of last week's worst air raid on London received large quantities of food, clothing and blankets from the Red Cross immediately the Nazi Blitz ceased. The Society's Overseas Commissioner, C. A. Scott, cabled Headquarters that one thousand civilians found Canadian supplies ready for them as they emerged shocked and terrified from shelters, and discovered the smoking ruins of their homes.

In the early hours of the morning officials called on the Canadian Red Cross for immediate assistance. Major Scott said in his cable, fifteen hundred blankets were loaded on to lorries and speeded into the disaster areas. The food-included soups, stews, hash, cheese and jam. All other London Boroughs affected by the raid also received Canadian assistance, the Commissioner revealed. "Thousands of parcels of food and clothing had been previously packed in preparation of such a Blitz," he cabled.

Elsewhere in England affected areas speedily received supplies from the Canadian Society, and some eight thousand garments were distributed through the Women's Voluntary Services to suffering victims, Major Scott declared.

Boys and girls are encouraged to ask questions in Canadian schools. They are not forced to accept false principles and theories without challenge.

This is the freedom of democracy... the freedom we are fighting to maintain. What a difference this from the fetters that a Nazi victory would impose on Canada... and on the world!

New Courses at Banff School of Fine Arts

Its purpose to establish and preserve in Canada that wider culture and sense of appreciation of the finer things of life which must come with a new society after this war, the Banff School of Fine Arts has arranged a particularly interesting course of studies for the month of August. The school, which is now entering its ninth year, is sponsored by the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta, at Edmonton, in co-operation with the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art, Calgary.

The school is by no means confined to Alberta. Last year there were 175 students, from Vancouver in the west to New York in the east, from Peace River in the North to Buenos Aires in the south. The registration is expected to cover similar territory this year. The student body includes teachers, high school and college students and others interested in the arts purely for aesthetic reasons. Courses regularly studied include the theatre, art, music, oral French and special classes for children covering the theatre, art and music. This year, owing to the generosity of the Carnegie Corporation special grant, new courses will be provided in design, art, weaving and apparel, pottery and modelling. Registration fees are extremely low,

The school building is a beautiful new structure which was completed a year ago at a cost of $50,000. It is of chalet design and has a theatre with a seating capacity for 700, a modern stage fitted with the finest lighting equipment, dressing rooms, music room, work rooms and other meeting rooms for small groups. Students at the school also find time for recreation in Banff National Park, Canada's finest vacation land. The hot sulphur pools, the majesty of the mountains, the thrill of meeting wild animals on the trails, riding, hiking, boating, fishing—all these pleasures are open to the students when school is out.

considered that since 1929 the world's population has increased by at least 10 percent and that the world's consumption of wheat since 1929 has actually increased by 53 percent.

It is quite evident, therefore, that the present condition of the Western wheat industry, with its unsold surplus, and the sad plight of our farmers, has certainly not been brought about by any increase in wheat acreage in recent years.

Following factors have tended to raise price:— Unfavorable spring weather, serious losses and war have considerably reduced Balkan crop prospects—Exports of Canadian wheat for single week ending April 9th were 7.7 million bushels, the best week since December 1932.—Navigation has reopened on the Great Lakes—Unoccupied France is negotiating for large quantities of U.S. wheat.

Following factors have tended to lower price:— On April 1st Kansas winter wheat crop estimated at 149 million bushels, the highest for several years—Combined surplus of old and new Argentine corn crop is estimated at 475 million—Barley production in Turkey during 1940—121 million bushels, 30 million over the average—German advance into Greece curtails Grecian imports of wheat.

famed for his work on Liverpool Cathedral, has used a multitude of small fragments which give an effect of rich and darkly glowing jewels.

In designing windows for churches overseas, British stained glass experts have investigated the art and study the architecture of the United States, South Africa, Australia and to some extent, New Zealand. This calls for the use of deeper colours and richer treatment than is required in Britain.

Since the outbreak of war, Mr. Hogan has designed clerestory windows for the fashionable New York church of St. Thomas, as well as windows for the churches of St. Thomas's Menasha (Wis.), Bethesda-by-the-Sea, Palm Beach Florida, and St. Albans, Washington (D.C.). Others have gone to St. Paul's Church, Huxley, in New Zealand, St. Boniface's, Germiston, South Africa, and Perth Cathedral, Australia.

The total value of the exported work in first year of the war was about 15,000 pounds—the price of three Spitfires

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Some persons, it seems, are objecting to the payment by the Dominion Government to our Western wheat growers of any sum as a bonus either for summer-fallow land or for any other reason. The chief argument used by these critics is that the present surplus wheat situation has been brought about mainly by the insistence in recent years of Western wheat growers to increase their acreage.

The official statistics do not bear out this claim. The average annual acreage seeded to wheat for the past six years, that is from 1935 to 1940 inclusive, has been 25,209,466, whereas the similar average annual acreage seeded to wheat for the six immediate preceding years, that is from 1929 to 1934 inclusive, was 24,929,201, an increase in the annual average for the past six years of 287,265 acres only, or just over 1 per cent.

This is an almost insignificant increase particularly when it is

JUNIOR W. A. RALLY

Last Friday, the Anglican Junior W. A. rally was held in Calgary at St. Michael's and All Angels on the North Hill. Juniors were there from Carbon and Crossfield, and from St. John's, St. Gabriel's, St. Michael's and the Pro-Cathedral.

Lunch was served by the St. Michael's Senior W. A. to the Juniors and the Senior officers present, among whom were Mrs. A. E. Cross, Diocesan President, Mrs. Appleby and Mrs. Elton.

After lunch, service was held in the church and an address given to the children by the Rev. C. Reeves, rector of the parish. A short programme was then presented, consisting of a play and action hymn most beautifully put on by the Crossfield Juniors; the Carbon Juniors played chimes on bells and St. Gabriel's concluded with a recitation on God Save the King. During the programme reports were heard from the parishes, all of which were very excellent. Miss Louise of the Public Library gave a most interesting talk on the tale of St. George up-to-date.

Afternoon tea and the singing of the national anthem brought the proceedings to a close.
